

Randstad Hellas is searching to recruit on behalf of its client, a leading insurance company, an actuary.

Responsibilities

- Develops and manages projects, analyzes results and provides options and recommendations including:
 - New product pricing models
 - Product management tools and studies
 - Business and related forecasts
 - Implementation of valuation methods
- Performs actuarial research supporting: Product pricing and development; Hedging and risk mitigation methods; underwriting, valuations and insurance regulations
- Prepares financial reports and analysis, actuarial memos and responses in support of:
 - New product rollouts
 - Requests from external auditors, state regulators and rating agencies
 - Parent company requests and requirements
- Perform experience studies and assist in development of pricing, projection or valuation assumptions
- Supervise a team of actuaries.
- Training and direction of actuary assistants

Qualifications

- University degree with majors in actuarial science, economics, mathematics or other related fields
- Qualified actuary (ASA, FSA or equivalent)
- Fluency in written and spoken English. An additional language is a plus
- Solid IT skills that include advanced MS Office
- Good knowledge of SAP ECCS
- 6-10 years of experience in actuarial, financial accounting or risk analysis with focus in general insurance business. Experience gained in an operational unit would be an advantage
- Strong understanding of Life insurance and financial services sector.
- Understanding of typical actuarial related an Insurance Company's processes (pricing/product development, ALM, reserving/valuation, underwriting)
- Familiarity with market-consistent concepts and exposure to industry developments such as Solvency II, IFRS 4 Phase 2, etc.
- Good track record of being able to work simultaneously on several projects with the skills to prioritize among those
- Work independently, with results orientation, a strong sense of cooperation and ability to work toward team success
- Demonstrated project management skills

- Strong communication skills, including the willingness to communicate technical topics to a non-technical audience
- Excellent oral and written presentation skills

Information

Eva Stamou
216 600 1352
estamou@randstad.gr

apply now